Greg,

There has been far too much pressure on Nanci and I being in business with you. In light of all that has happened, what is currently happening and what might happen with you both personally and legally we are severing ties! Being associated with Ministry Ideaz has become a liability that has already damaged us.

I tried to weather the storm in hopes of being able to continue on but there has been no changes to the problems that surround you and being in business with you! The store sign has been removed, the lease has ended, utilities, phones and internet canceled and all Clovers shut down.

I have not ended the business TD account and will hold off until we talk! I still have some return checks that I will deposit on Monday. There is still much to discuss regarding the assets of Ministry Ideaz LLC. This decision did not come lightly and has strained every aspect of our daily lives. I will be able to deal with a conversation on Monday maybe Sunday either way I will let you know! Please do not call or text as I will not respond!

I have some ideas on how we might come to a mutually beneficial agreement that will enable dissemination of online products and returns to continue being handled for a time here in New York. I offer this option in an attempt to soften the blow that this must surely be.

Bear in mind that the store is gone, our conversation must focus on division of assets and moving forward.

I hope that you take time and prepare yourself so that we may have calm and productive conversation! A harsh and disagreeable meeting will only serve to further damage both of us as we move forward separately in business!

Sincerely,
 Tom
